ADVANCED COURSE ON FACIAL AESTHETICS

Join the Advanced Course on Aesthetics to learn more about the latest aesthetic trends!

Internationally renowned experts will share the daily pearls and pitfalls for effective aesthetic treatment.

This one-day training will provide you with the necessary updates on:

Anatomy • Treatment strategies • Rejuvenation trends and techniques • Products' choice criteria • Complications' management... The course will include HIGH IMPACT LECTURES focused on practical aspects, VIDEO TUTORIALS and LIVE DEMONSTRATIONS.

THREADS

Threads are an increasingly important sub-specialty in the field of Aesthetics.

AMWC Latin America will proudly host some of the leading threads experts from around the world as they give practical lectures on improving your technique, and present video footage of actual treatments.

AESTHETIC GYNECOLOGY

An increasing number of women are demanding treatments in this sensitive sub-specialty. With an ever-increasing variety of devices and treatments available, it is now more important than ever to be updated.

INJECTABLES

As new procedures and products are launched and patients' demand intensify, your own knowledge in the field of injectables needs to keep up with change. Our variety of scientific presentations allow clinicians to borrow tips from master injectors and leading specialists, to learn about the recent trends and to be informed about efficacy and contradictions of new products.

LASERS & ENERGY-BASED DEVICES

Every year sees the launching of new devices and constant changes in the technology. With new equipment and novel techniques emerging all the time, it is essential to keep up with the changing landscape.

REGENERATIVE & MEDICINE

This exciting field is always abuzz with new research and findings. AMWC Latin America will provide an insightful forum for the exchange of knowledge in the latest developments of regenerative medicine, including stem cells, PRP, and more.

ANTI-AGING MEDICINE

This dynamic field is constantly evolving with new debates and research findings. At AMWC Latin America you will learn about the latest developments in Nutrition, Hormones, Genetics & Epigenetics, Stress Management and New Anti-Aging Treatments. This two-day program is a must-attend for anti-aging practitioners, as well as for aesthetic practitioners keen to include anti-aging medicine in their treatment repertoire.

INDUSTRY SPONSORED SYMPOSIA

This year delegates will be able to attend a special program of industry sponsored symposia to learn about the latest products and services available to the industry. Industry symposia and workshops, including lectures, training sessions, video and live demonstrations, will be proposed by the leading companies to present their techniques, devices and products in aesthetics and anti-aging. They are designed for medical doctors interested in having a complete array of aesthetic and anti-aging treatment options for their patients.
